

Printer-friendly PDF

Linate and Malpensa airports

Linate airport

Linate airport Linate airport is situated within the Milan urban belt, in the South-East of the province. It occupies In 2012, Linate handled 6.2% of passengers, 7.1% of aircraft movements and 1.9% of cargo in Italy.

The Linate traffic model is based on the so-called traditional 'Point to point' model, which is centred on serving

Linate airport table

Table 12/11

Profile (with at least 10 movements per year)
Operating hours
Turnaround time (TAT) less than 15 minutes
Characteristics / 1,000 passengers
Check-in desks
Departure gates
Area dedicated to commercial activity
Electric capacity
Thermal capacity
Parking spaces reserved for passengers
Parking spaces reserved for airport operators
Taxi spaces

DOCS SEA, Book 2013 (

Malpensa airport

Malpensa airport is located on the Lombardy plateau in the South-West of Varese province, 48 KM from Milan, The airport covers 1,220 hectares and is surrounded by a woodland which is maintained by the municipalities w

The Malpensa airport ranks second in Italy for overall aircraft movements and passenger numbers.

Malpensa managed 12.7% of overall movements, 12.6% of passenger traffic and 48.6% of cargo transported in

Malpensa Airport table

Table 12/11

Profile (with at least 10 movements per year)
Operating hours
Turnaround time (TAT) less than 27 minutes
Characteristics / 1,000 passengers
Check-in desks
Departure gates
Area dedicated to commercial activity
Electric capacity
Thermal capacity
Parking spaces reserved for passengers
Parking spaces reserved for airport operators
Taxi spaces

DOCS SEA, Book 2013 (

The traffic model developed and managed by Malpensa airport is categorised as 'Big Point', i.e. a hybrid traffi
